

PRIVACY NOTICE

Effective Date Jun 2024

Who we are

Your personal information is collected by Inskin Media Ltd, registered in England under company number 06080497. We respect your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal information. This notice will inform you how we look after your personal data:

- Visitors: Visitors to our website
- Platform Users: Users of our creative platform
- Users: End users of our digital advertisements
- Customers: Businesses that purchase our services
- Prospects: Businesses who enquire about our services
- Candidates: Individuals who enquire about working for us

We also use this privacy notice to tell you about your privacy rights and how the law protects you.

Inskin Media is involved in the AdTech industry, providing creative solutions for digital branding and facilitating the development, serving and distribution of digital ads on electronic devices.

IAB Europe's GDPR Transparency and Consent Framework

We are registered on IAB Europe's Framework, with vendor ID number 150 and we comply with the specifications and policies of IAB Europe's Transparency & Consent Framework. We only work with third party tracking vendors who are also registered to this list, or who we have independently assessed for GDPR compliance (Partners).

Interest-Based Advertising

We use a Data Management Platform (DMP) service provided by Lotame for interest-based advertising. Third party data in Lotame may contain personally identifiable information (PII); however Inskin Media does not store or make use of this.

Lotame's DMP creates profiles through the use of cookies, pixel tags, SDKs (software development kits), secure file transfers, server to server connections, or other unique identifiers provided to Lotame by Customers, to learn about your journey. This information is used only to help us show you more relevant marketing content.

Also, we use Improve Digital as our ad server which uses tracking technologies of its own.

To learn more about their processing please visit Lotame's privacy policy, Improve Digital's privacy policy or Oracle's privacy policy.

Third-party links

This website may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our website, we encourage you to read the privacy notice of every website you visit.

Children

While our website is designed for a general audience, we will not knowingly collect information of children under the age of 13, and in some jurisdictions the personal information of children under the age 16.

If you believe we might have any personal information from or about a person under the age of 13 (or under the age of 16 in some jurisdictions), please email us at dpo@azerion.com.

Changes to the privacy notice

We keep our privacy notice under regular review. Historic versions can be obtained by contacting us at dpo@azerion.com.

Depending on how you interact with us, will determine how we process your data:

If you are a visitor to our website

Third-party marketing - we will not share your data with any third parties for the purposes of direct marketing.

Opting out - you can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages at any time by following the opt-out links on any marketing message sent to you.

Cookies - you can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of this website may become inaccessible or not function properly.

Change of purpose – Your data will only be used for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If you wish to get an explanation as to how the processing for the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please contact us at dpo@azerion.com.

If we need to use your data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

WHO WE SHARE YOUR DATA WITH

There are certain circumstances where we may need to share your data with our Inskin Media Group Companies and Third Party Service Providers. For example, if you use our contact form and are in Australia, we will pass your details to our Australian Offices so they can deal with your request in the correct time zone. Third-party service providers include our IT systems where the information will be stored or used to contact you, for example Gmail.

Your data may be transferred to other third party organisations in certain scenarios:

- if we discuss selling or transferring part or all of our business the information may be transferred to prospective purchasers under suitable terms as to confidentiality
- if we are reorganised or sold, information may be transferred to a buyer who can continue to provide services to you
- if we're required to by law, or under any regulatory code or practice we follow, or if we are asked by any public or regulatory authority for example the Police
- if we are defending a legal claim your information may be transferred as required in connection with defending such claim

In all cases we ensure that we have appropriate technical and organisational measures in place to protect your data to the highest standard.

If you are a platform user

• if we are defending a legal claim your information may be transferred as required in connection with defending such claim

Your data may also be shared with third parties if it is made anonymous and aggregated. In such circumstances the information will cease to be personal data.

International transfers

Most of our data processing takes place within the UK, however we employ some services which are based outside of the UK. In these cases, limited personal data (for example we use Gmail) is passed to another country (e.g. USA).

Whenever we transfer your data out of the UK, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by ensuring at least one of the following safeguards is implemented:

- We will only transfer your data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data under the UK adequacy regulations. For further details, see Information Commissioner's Office (ICO): Adequacy of the protection of personal data in non-UK countries.
- Where we use certain service providers, we may use specific contracts approved by the European Commission and amended by the ICO which give personal data the same protection it has in the UK. For further details, see ICO's: Model contracts for the transfer of personal data to third countries.
- In the absence of an adequacy decision or appropriate contractual safeguards we may rely on derogations for specific situations. For further details, see GDPR Article 49: Derogations for specific situations.

Please contact us at dpo@azerion.com if you want further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your data out of the UK.

Security measures to protect your data

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process you're your data on our instructions, and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

Our sub-processors

For a list of our sub-processors see [link to sub-processors].

How long will we use your data

We will only retain your data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting requirements. We may retain your data for a longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you.

To determine the appropriate retention period for your data, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your data, the purposes for which we process your data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other requirements.

By law we have to keep basic information about our customers (including Contact, Identity and Transaction Data) for 6 years after they cease being customers for tax purposes.

In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data, see below "Exercising your rights".

Sometimes we will anonymise Your data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes, in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

Exercising your rights

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data. You have the right to:

Request access to your personal data (commonly known as a "data subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.

Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.

Request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request.

Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground as you feel it impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes. In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your rights and freedoms.

Request restriction of processing of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in the following scenarios:

- If you want us to establish the data's accuracy.
- Where our use of the data is unlawful, but you do not want us to erase it.
- Where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims.
- You have objected to our use of your data, but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

Request the transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party. We will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.

Withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact us using dpo@azerion.com.

IP addresses

Subject access requests for IP addresses will require proof from the requestor that they own the IP address. Fulfilment of such requests may not be possible as IP obfuscation renders the data unidentifiable and therefore unavailable.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we could refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Subject Access Request as a Service (SARaaS)

We are committed to providing the information you request as part of your Data Subject Access Request and have procedures in place to ensure this occurs in a timely fashion.

We do not have agreements in place with any third-party platforms that offer "Subject Access Requests as a Service". As a responsible data controller of your personal information this represents significant risks when sharing data. The right of access afforded to you, does not obligate us to share data with third-parties. It is our policy to provide the information directly to data subjects ensuring the safety and security of the information throughout the process.

We will monitor future guidance from the Information Commissioner's Office but will follow our reasonable measures to verify the identity of data subjects. We would like to assure you that the protection of your data is our main concern and we are committed to providing information as part of any valid request.

This policy will also apply to the rights set out below.

Time limit to respond

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it could take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

Contact us or make a complaint

If you have any questions about this privacy notice or our privacy practices, please contact us at dpo@azerion.com.

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK regulator for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.

Glossary

Lawful Basis

Legitimate interest means the interest of our business in conducting and managing our business to enable us to give you the best service/product and the best and most secure experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative) and your rights before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted to by law). You can obtain further information about how we assess our legitimate interests against any potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by contacting us.

Performance of a contract means processing your data where it is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or to take steps at your request before entering into such a contract.

Comply with a legal obligation means processing your personal data where it is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation that we are subject to.

Consent means processing your data where you have freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of your wishes.
